Reuben,
Thank you for providing the guidance document!

A quick follow-up note to the submission for XtendiMax URL addition of 21 tank mix products ... I do want to point out that several of these products had been enabled for "conventional tank mix uses" in the past, however, when XtendiMax became a Restricted Use Pesticide the decision was made to subject these "conventional tank mixes" to the terms and conditions of registration dated 11/9/2016. As an example, a grower who has been using Gramoxone in his pasture or 2,4-D in corn tank mixed with dicamba will now need to consult the XtendiMax URL first to identify if such tank mix is allowed. I suspect that this may be a reason that the increased number of requests for tank mix partners in recent months.

When searching for the original email requesting URL addition of Cotoran I was informed that Tom Marvin has already provided the email. Please let me know if there is any additional information I can provide.

It was a pleasure speaking with you!

Regards,
Simone
